To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives,

In December 2017, the Baker-Polito Administration launched the Housing Choice Initiative. This program encourages cities and towns to plan and build the additional housing that is vital to the success of our Commonwealth. By providing incentives, rewards and technical assistance to municipalities, the Housing Choice Initiative has put us on a path to produce 135,000 new units of housing by 2025. We are proud that nearly seventy communities have been designated Housing Choice communities and are participating in the program. Last fall we announced $5 million in capital grants for thirty-one communities to assist them address crucial infrastructure needs to support local housing production efforts.

At the same time that we announced the Housing Choice Initiative, I filed legislation to address a significant barrier to housing production that the state has created. State law bars cities and towns in Massachusetts from adopting changes to zoning laws unless the municipality is able to secure a 2/3 “supermajority” vote of its legislative body. Only a handful of other states have similar requirements. None of our neighbors in New England place this sort of restriction on local decision making. This self-inflicted wound has damaged our ability to build the housing our residents need.

Our bill received widespread, bi-partisan support. Therefore, I am re-filing this legislation in the form in which it was reported favorably by the Joint Committee on Housing as “An Act to Promote Housing Choices.” As was the case with the original bill, this legislation allows cities and towns to adopt the following local zoning by majority vote of their legislative bodies:

- Reducing dimensional requirements, such as minimum lot sizes, to allow homes to be built closer together
- Adopting smart growth zoning districts and starter home zoning districts
- Allowing multi-family housing as of right or by special permit in locations such as town centers, near transit and in other locations that would be eligible for a smart growth zoning district
- Allowing mixed-use developments by special permit in town and city centers, commercial districts and rural village districts
- Allowing a small accessory dwelling unit or “in-law” apartment in the same building or on the same lot as an existing home
- Providing for “Natural Resource Protection Zoning,” “Open Space Residential Development” and transfers of development rights to allow the clustering of new development while protecting open space or conservation land
- Allowing special permits to enable developments that have more density or fewer parking spaces.

When a majority of a city or town legislative body wants to adopt zoning that will encourage housing production, state law should not stand in the way. Each year that passes means another season of town meetings that come and go with the supermajority requirement in place. Each year is a missed opportunity to build needed housing in accordance with local decision-making governed by majority rule. Time is of the essence as we join together to meet our urgent housing needs. I urge your prompt enactment of this legislation.

Respectfully submitted

Charles D. Baker,

Governor
An Act to promote housing choices.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4A of chapter 40 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2016 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:—

By a majority vote of their legislative bodies, and with the approval of the mayor, board of selectmen or other chief executive officer, any contiguous cities and towns may enter into an agreement to allocate public infrastructure costs, municipal service costs and local tax revenue associated with the development of an identified parcel or parcels or development within the contiguous communities generally, provided that said agreement is approved by the department of revenue.

SECTION 2. Section 1A of chapter 40A of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the introductory paragraph the following 7 definitions:—

“Accessory dwelling unit”, a self-contained housing unit, inclusive of sleeping, cooking and sanitary facilities on the same lot as a principal dwelling, subject to otherwise applicable dimensional and parking requirements, that: (i) maintains a separate entrance, either directly from the outside or through an entry hall or corridor shared with the principal dwelling sufficient to meet the requirements of the state building code for safe egress; (ii) is not larger in floor area than 1/2 the floor area of the principal dwelling or 900 square feet, whichever is smaller; and (iii) is subject to such additional restrictions as may be imposed by a municipality, including but not limited to additional size restrictions, owner-occupancy requirements, and restrictions or prohibitions on short-term rental of accessory dwelling units.

“As of right”, development may proceed under a zoning ordinance or by-law without the need for a special permit, variance, zoning amendment, waiver, or other discretionary zoning approval.

“Lot”, an area of land with definite boundaries that is used or available for use as the site of a building or buildings.

“Mixed-use development”, development containing a mix of residential uses and non-neighborhoods.

“Multi-family housing”, a building with 3 or more residential dwelling units or 2 or more buildings on the same lot with more than 1 residential dwelling unit in each building.

“Natural resource protection zoning”, zoning ordinances or by-laws enacted principally to protect natural resources by promoting compact patterns of development and concentrating development within a portion of a parcel of land so that a significant majority of the land remains permanently undeveloped and available for agriculture, forestry, recreation, watershed management, carbon sequestration, wildlife habitat or other natural resource values.
“Open space residential development”, a residential development in which the buildings and accessory uses are clustered together into one or more groups separated from adjacent property and other groups within the development by intervening open land. An open space residential development shall be permitted only on a plot of land of such minimum size as a zoning ordinance or by-law may specify which is divided into building lots with dimensional control, density and use restrictions for such building lots varying from those otherwise permitted by the ordinance or by-law and open land. Such open land may be situated to promote and protect maximum solar access within the development. Such open land shall either be conveyed to the city or town and accepted by it for park or open space use, or be made subject to a recorded use restriction enforceable by the city or town or a non-profit organization the principal purpose of which is the conservation of open space, providing that such land shall be kept in an open or natural state and not be built for residential use or developed for accessory uses such as parking or roadway.

SECTION 3. Said section 1A of said chapter 40A, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by inserting after the definition of “Special permit granting authority” the following 2 definitions:

“Transfer of development rights”, the regulatory procedure whereby the owner of a parcel may convey development rights, extinguishing those rights on the first parcel, and where the owner of another parcel may obtain and exercise those rights in addition to the development rights already existing on that second parcel.
